Tax Information & Appraisals for Non-Cash Gifts

Tax and appraisal information for donors of non-cash gifts.

Internal Revenue Service regulations governing charitable contributions of non-cash gifts are complex. We strongly encourage you to consult legal, accounting, or other professional advisors before you make your gift. Information on IRS requirements for supporting your income tax deduction is available from the IRS website.

We ask for this information on the reverse side so that it can be kept with our records. It is important for you to note that:

The IRS requires donors to submit Form 8283 for gifts of property valued at more than $500 (single or in the aggregate) for which a charitable deduction is sought.

If you anticipate that the value of your gift or the aggregate value of a series of gifts to one or more organizations (see IRS form 8283 and IRS Publication 561) during the tax year will be $5,000 or more, please contact the Eager Free Public Library in advance of making your gift. Failure to provide early notification may result in the Library's inability to substantiate your claim on IRS Form 8283 or comply with other IRS reporting requirements.

If you expect to file an IRS Form 8283 for gift(s) valued at $5,000 or more, you must obtain a "qualified appraisal" that details each item in the gift. Valuation of donated property is the responsibility of the donor. IRS regulations and Eager Free Public Library policy prohibit the Eager Free Public Library from providing appraisals of gifts. IRS Publication 561 "Determining the Value of Donated Property" provides important information for donors of non-cash gifts.
