

Horselandia

Once upon a time, there were 5 horses. They were named Pixy, Popcorn, Trixie, Dixie, and Watermelon. Watermelon was the only one who didn't have any powers. The owners of the horses were Sydney and Harlow. Sydney owned Pixy, Trixie, and Dixie, and Harlow owned Popcorn. They both share Watermelon.

However, there is one evil horse! The evil horse was named Villain. Villain is black with a white star on his forehead.

In this world, there was a city called Horselandia.
This city was perfect in every way.

Every morning, Harlow and Sydney eat breakfast, brush their teeth, and then, go to see their horses, Pixie, Popcorn, Dixie, Trixie, and Watermelon

The horses need food, treats, water, and most importantly, attention. Luckily, Sydney and Harlow have robots to help with extra things so they can spend as much time with their horses as possible

Next, they race their horses to Sydney and Harlow's dad's house, where they play with a dog named Murph. They have to take him outside to go potty, give him breakfast, play with him, then go home.

After spending time with Murph, the girls spend time with their dad.

At the end of the day, Sydney and Harlow go home and go to sleep. They do this every day, at least most normal days. However, one day their routine is interrupted by Villain.

Villain, the evil horse, has his own little town called Evil Villain Victory. Villain rules over all of the people in the town and he isn't a nice ruler, he commands people to do things by yelling at them. Villain doesn't take care of his city at all.

One morning, while eating breakfast, the horses found out that Villain had been spotted near Horselandia.

“Oh no! We have to protect Horselandia!” Pixy exclaimed.

“How do we stop him? He has powers that no one can stop!” Trixie replied.

“We’ll just have to try! He’s no match for all of us.” Popcorn chimed in.

"If only we had one more magical horse..."

“We have to protect Horselandia no matter what. Dixie, put up the barriers. Popcorn, gather everyone in the meeting room. Pixy, go get the humans from the barn.”

The horses separated and completed their tasks, but just as they were about to start the meeting, Popcorn made a discovery.

“Where is Watermelon???” Popcorn yelled.

They decided to check the stables, where they found the note.

I took watermelon. If you want to see him again, meet me at the park in Evil Villain Victory.

- Villain

Even though the horses didn't want to agree to his plan, they had no choice. In order to save their brother, they had to defeat Villain.

They arrived at the park as fast as they could. At one end of the park stood Villain. "Where is he?" Popcorn yelled.

But Popcorn never got an answer, because just then, Villain started to attack them with his magic.

Villain and the horses began to battle, but the horses were losing. They felt their magic weakening. They looked at each other and at the same time, blasted a massive amount of magic at Villain. He just laughed at them.

There was a loud rumbling, and just then a familiar red horse began running across the field. He began to glow, and he blasted Villain with his own power. Villain's power began to wane, and finally, his power gave out.

“We did it!” The horses cheered.

But then, from across the field, they heard that laughing again, and then they realized that the battle had only just begun.
