

Turtle and Penguin's Big Day

By Hailey and

One morning in March, Turtle was bored of living in the Zoo. She thought of a great idea! She was going to swim all the way to Antarctica and meet a new friend.

Turtle grabbed her ring floatie, some food, and said goodbye to her friends, Elephant, Ostrich, and Piggie. She waited until the Zoo was closed... and then she escaped into the Pacific Ocean!

Turtle swam and swam before hitting a block of ice. "Ouchie!" She cried, as she hopped on top of it. Her jaw dropped open as she saw... Antartica! There were Seals, Polar Bears, and loads of Penguins everywhere!

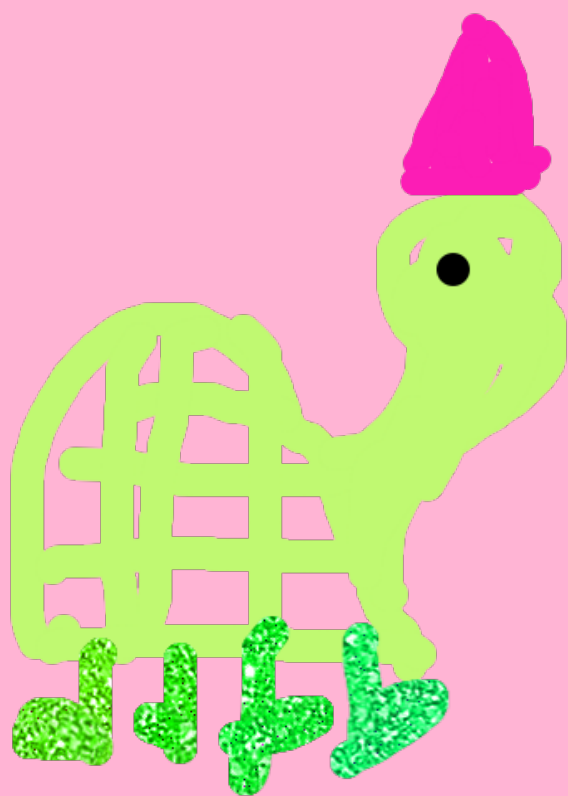

Turtle walks and walks until she finds a Penguin!

“Hi!” Penguin chirps. She is eating a snack. “Hi!” Turtle says. “Let’s be friends!” Penguin says, as she gives a cookie to Turtle. “And we can throw a huge party!” Turtle and Penguin cheer as they start to look for decorations.

Turtle leads Penguin back to the zoo where they are going to throw the party. Turtle introduces Penguin to all of her friends. The party is all set up! Turtle calls all of the zoo animals back to her house... it's time for the party!

At the party, everyone is having lots of fun. Zebra is dancing, Penguin and Tiger are playing games, and Turtle is eating a donut! Everyone is having SO much fun, they want Penguin to move to the zoo with them!

Penguin said yes! Everyone is so happy. She has her own diving show too! And now, Penguin and Turtle are best friends forever, and that's all that matters.
