

Alien on Earth!

By Cora and Lana

Oh no! Bluz and his alien ship are crashing on Mars! Bluz is the only alien that fell out! He is falling down to earth!

Bluz lands
in water near a middle school in Texas.

Sam and his friends are at school, and suddenly see an alien crash land into water nearby!

Sam rushes over to help the poor alien. He asks if he's alright, but Bluz doesn't understand what he's saying. "Are you okay?" Bluz repeats. He's deep in thought, piecing together the entire English language, then responds "Yes, I am alright." Then all the students gasp, and ask tons of questions.

“BRINNNG” The school bell goes off. All the confused students head home. Sam looks back at Bluz and heads to his house. Then, Bluz shrinks down and hops inside Sam’s backpack!

While Sam is on his way home Bluz reads all the books in his backpack. Then he hears Sam's front door open and close. He jumps out of the backpack and Sam is surprised his new alien friend followed him home.

After Sam discovers Bluz in his backpack he lets him stay with his family for an amazing year.

Then, Bluz's family finds him and picks him up in their spaceship. He and Sam wave goodbye as he is lifted into his spaceship. "Thank you, Sam! I'll miss you!" Yells Bluz. "I'll miss you more! Bye!" Sam yells back.
